

It’s time to switch to the LMS200

ABB’s new magnetic level gauge switch

Introducing the new leading edge LMS200. Currently the magnetic level gauge switch market consists of products with older technology that are costly to operate and maintain. The LMS200 offers a modern, non-invasive replacement with improved safety, reliability and ease of use. It’s time to make the switch to the LMS200 and upgrade your level measurement system.

Measurement made easy. abb.com/level
